

Alan Schatzberg & Associates, Inc. Receives Honors at Vision14: International Window Coverings Expo

The Brookville Project is recognized at the window covering industry's elite convention

Las Vegas, NV, Alan Schatzberg & Associates, Inc., February 5, 2014 – Alan Schatzberg & Associates, Inc. was the recipient of the 2014 Workroom of the Year and took 1st Place in the Curtain & Draperies category at the prestigious 2014 Envision Design and Ingenuity Workroom Competition, presented by Windows Fashion Vision magazine. The 29th annual “best of the best” awards ceremony was the culmination of the central competition that recognizes the industry’s best designs and fabrications in a variety of categories. This one-of-a-kind competition is the “Academy Awards” of the Window Covering Industry.

A panel of distinguished window covering design experts reviewed over 200 entries received from designers and workrooms in the UK, Canada and throughout the United States. Winners were announced at the U.S. window-treatment industry’s only trade show, Vision14: International Window Coverings Expo at the Las Vegas Convention Center which took place February 2-4, 2014.

The inspiration for the winning entry from this home on Long Island’s North Shore was the Palace of Versailles. Our biggest challenge was keeping track of the incredible amount of detail and layering in the designer’s concept. Approximately 250 yards of fabric and trimming went into this design. There are a total of twelve different fabric and trim components from eight different vendors. We were able to achieve the designer’s vision with precision and acute attention to detail. The end result was both a masterful and an outstanding example of superior workmanship and attention to detail.

Alan Schatzberg & Associates, Inc. marries fine craftsmanship with technical expertise to create one of a kind custom window treatments and unique upholstery. Alan Schatzberg has been working with designers and decorators in the New York City area for over 30 years. With the highest standards of professionalism and an emphasis on customer service, Alan has built a reputation that is synonymous with quality.

The Envision Design and Ingenuity Workroom Competition highlights the skills and design achievements of individual designers, design firms and window fashion designers. Each year, the competition features a wide range of categories including curtains & draperies, specialty treatments and commercial design.

About Window Fashion VISION

In addition to publishing VISION magazine, WFV produces educational seminars, conferences, and trade shows for the window-coverings industry. Since 1997, the company has produced the International Window Coverings EXPO, and additional interior design shows followed. Complementing the trade shows, WFV developed the Window Fashions Certified Professionals Program™ in 1990, the leading education program for the window-fashions industry, featuring CEU-accredited seminars. For more information and media requests, contact Susan Schultz, Editorial Director at susan@spacedowntown.com or Grace McNamara, Publisher at grace@wf-vision.com